Selected Bibliography

In researching this book, I have consulted many periodicals, as well as liner notes to LPs and CDs. The following publications were particularly useful: Blues & Rhythm, Blues Unlimited, Bulletin du Hot Club de France, Come for to Sing, Jazz Journal, Jazz Monthly, Jazz Record, Juke Blues, La Revue du Jazz, Living Blues, Melody Maker, Musical Express (later New Musical Express), 78 Quarterly, and Sing Out! Also helpful were the following newspapers: Ames (Iowa) Daily Tribune, Chicago Defender, Chicago Maroon, and Iowa State Daily. Where I have cited specific articles or liner notes, the reference appears in the endnotes.

Cohen, Ronald D., and Dave Samuelson. Songs for Political Action: Folk Music, Topical Songs and the American Left. Bear Family BCD 15720 JL.

Feather, Leonard. Lil Green: Romance in the Dark. RCA LPV 574.

Gleason, Mary. “‘Studs’ Terkel, Former Disc Jockey, to Appear Tonight in Mandel Hall.” Chicago Maroon, November 7, 1947.

———. Southern Saga: Big Bill Broonzy Sings and Plays. 45 rpm EP. Nixa NJE 1047.

Place, Jeff, and Anthony Seeger. Trouble in Mind. SFW CD 40131.

Slaven, Neil. It Sure Had a Kick: The Essential Recordings of Jazz Gillum. Indigo CD IGCD 2132 Z-UK.

———. Big Bill Broonzy Sings Country Blues. Folkways FTS 31005.

———. Big Bill Broonzy Sings Folk Songs. Smithsonian Folkways CD SF 40023 (originally issued as Folkways LP FA 2328).

———. The Old Town School of Folk Music: Its First Ten Years, or The Biography of a Hunch. Chicago: Old Town School of Folk Music, 1967.

———. The Blues, with Studs Terkel Interviewing Big Bill Broonzy, Sonny Terry, Brownie McGhee. Folkways FS 3817.

———. Radio Programme No. 4: Studs Terkel’s Weekly Almanac on Folk Music Blues on WFMT with Big Bill Broonzy and Pete Seeger. Folkways FA 3864.

Terkel, Studs, interviewed by Emily Friedman. “Studs Terkel: Recollections.” Come for to Sing: Folk Music in Chicago and the Midwest 6, no. 2 (Spring 1980).

———. When I Take My Vacation in Harlem: Blues Legends Sing Pop. No catalog number.

