OSIRIS
Clio Meets Science: The Challenges of History

Series Editors: Andrea Rusnock, Editors: Robert E. Kohler and Kathryn M. Olesko

Founded in 1936 by George Sarton, and re-launched by the History of Science Society in 1985, this annual focuses on research relevant to the history of science. Recent volumes of Osiris include Klima and Expertise and the Early Modern State. The latest Osiris explores how scholars should strive toward a larger sense of purpose to create works with the broadest possible appeal among disciplines.

All individual and student members of the History of Science Society receive Osiris as a benefit of membership. HSS membership is based on the calendar year, and members receive electronic access for the volume of Osiris published in any year during which they are an active member. (Members may also choose to receive a print copy of Osiris).
